

CROMOPOLIS 4 All

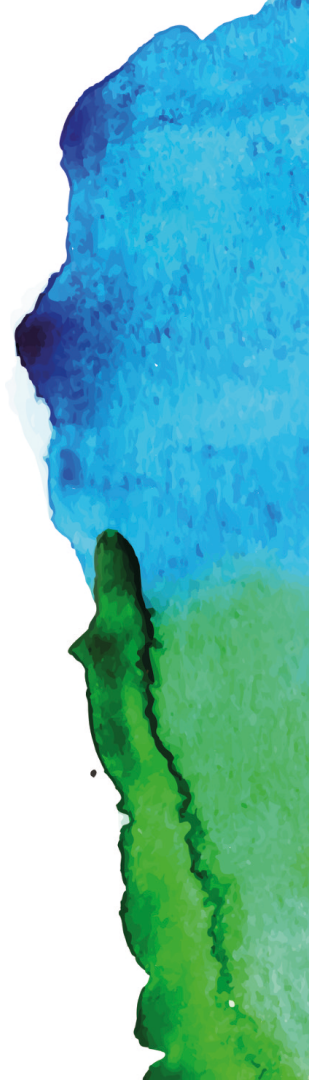

Science Dissemination for the Disabled

Sara Sossi, SCI FabLab, Trieste Contemporanea

Creativity

- It is not improvisation
- Designing method
- Objective values
- Collective utility

When the project is not well defined

Chain Fork
By Katerina Kamprani

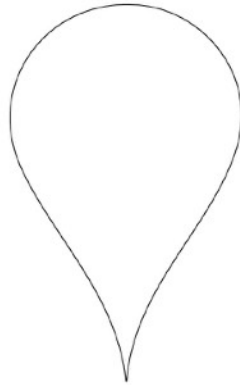

Watering Can
By Katerina Kamprani

Object (Fur-covered cup, saucer, and spoon)
Meret Oppenheim

Map Pin THEME OF THE 2014 COMPETITION

Contestants are to choose a subject (a physical or intangible cultural asset) which is an original and distinctive feature of a place with the aim of highlighting its cultural and touristic value.

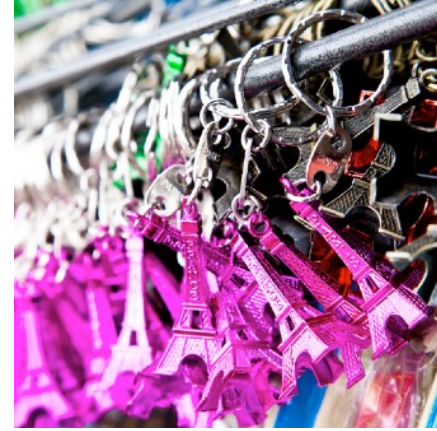

Contestants should produce a kit consisting of an original item of contemporary design, taking the form of a souvenir and to be conceived for small-scale production, and a flyer.

Limits:

- Maximum size of the object: 10x10x20 cm;
- It must contain all the information for the small-scale production on a low budget;
- Build with new technologies;

Already existing souvenir objects - Functions

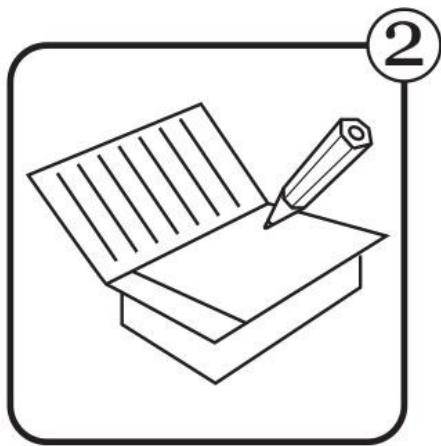

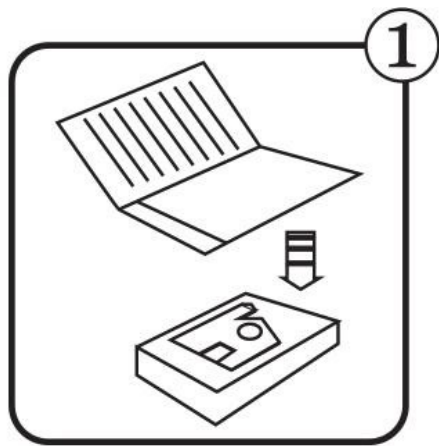

Experiences, emotions, memories

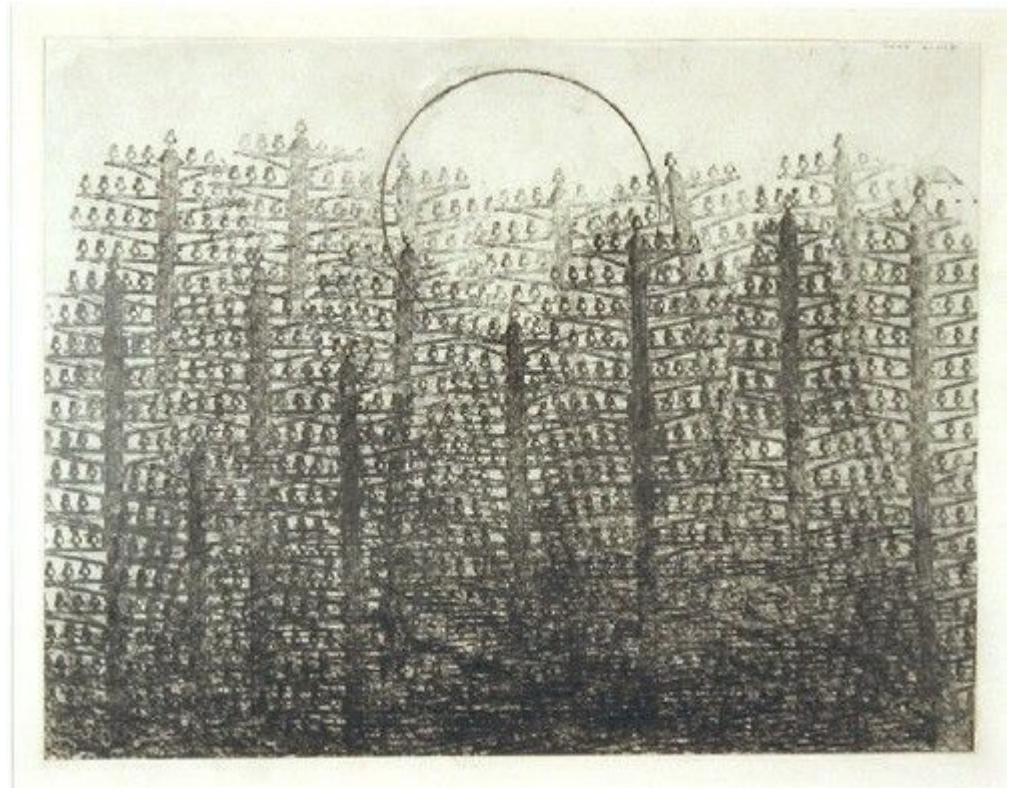

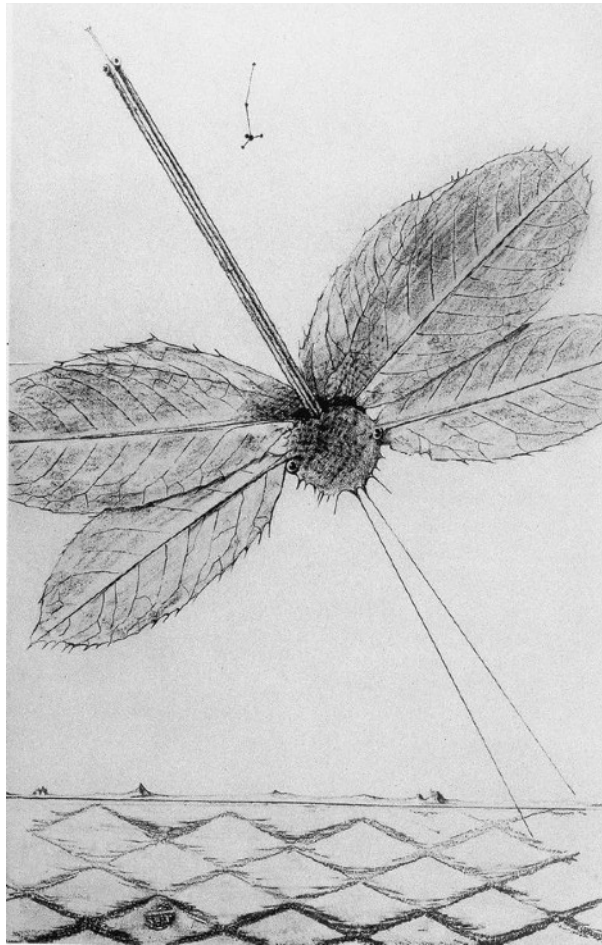

Target

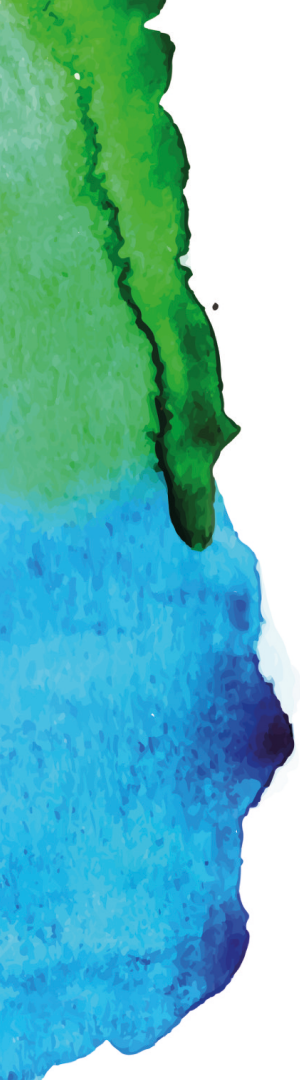

What is it?

Technique

Kit's components

CROMOPOLIS

TRIESTE

Memories of / Memorie di:

Year / Anno:

+

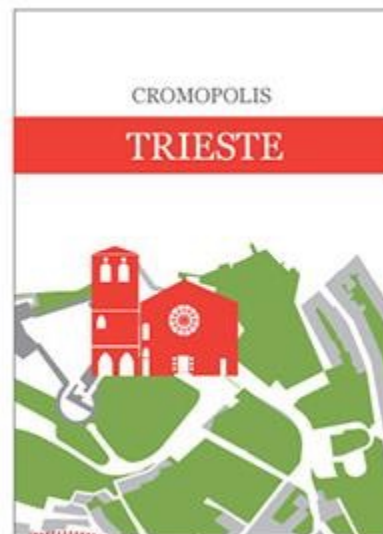

+

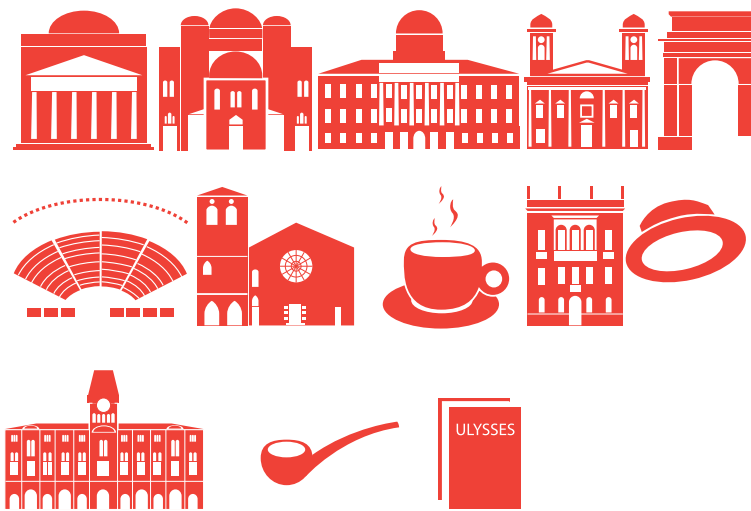

A blank postcard template with a rectangular box for a stamp in the top left corner and four vertical lines for an address on the right side.

CROMOPOLIS
CITY OF TRIESTE

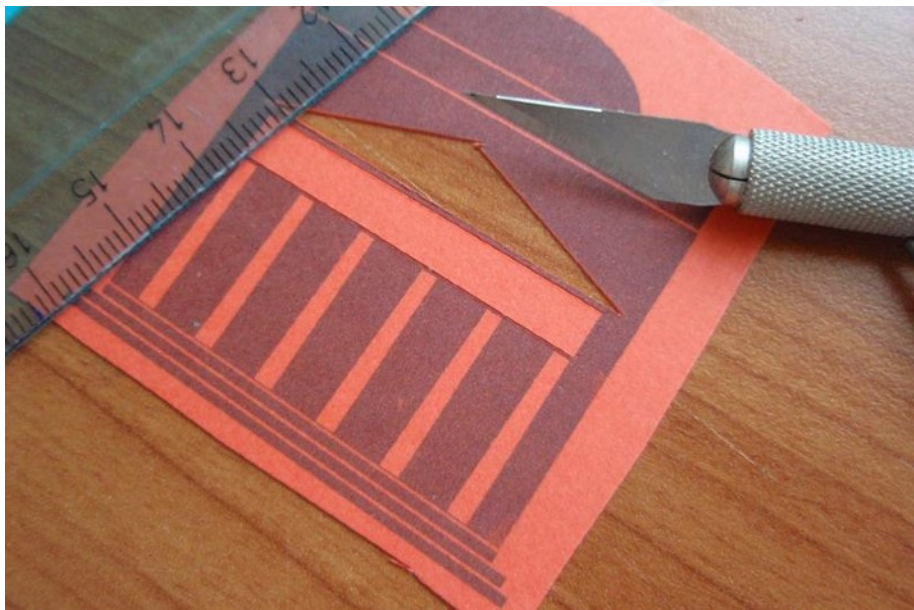

+

Contents

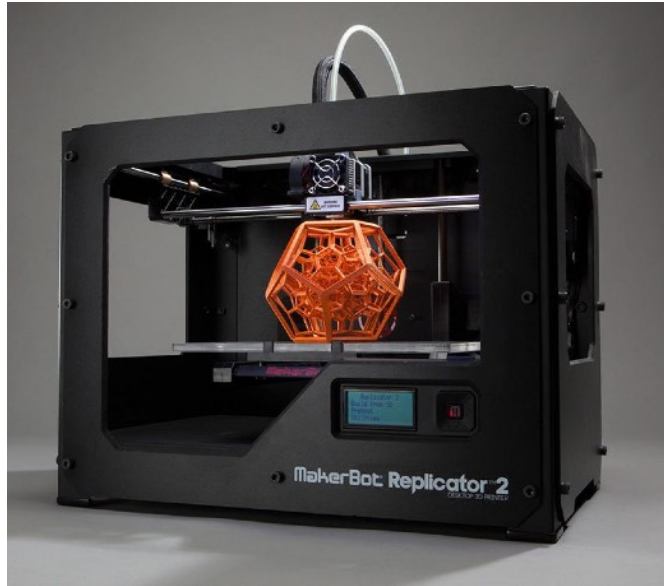

First tests

Technologies

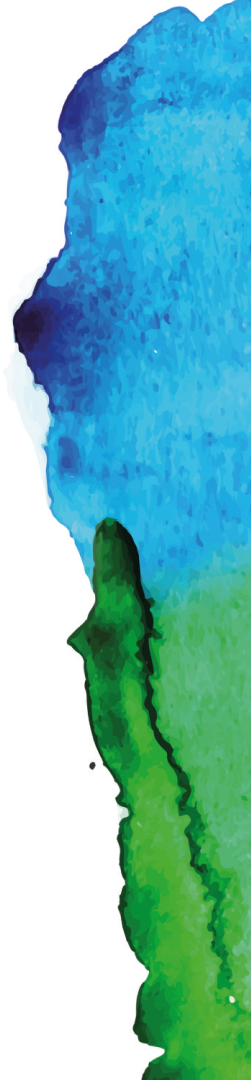

Small scale - Low cost production

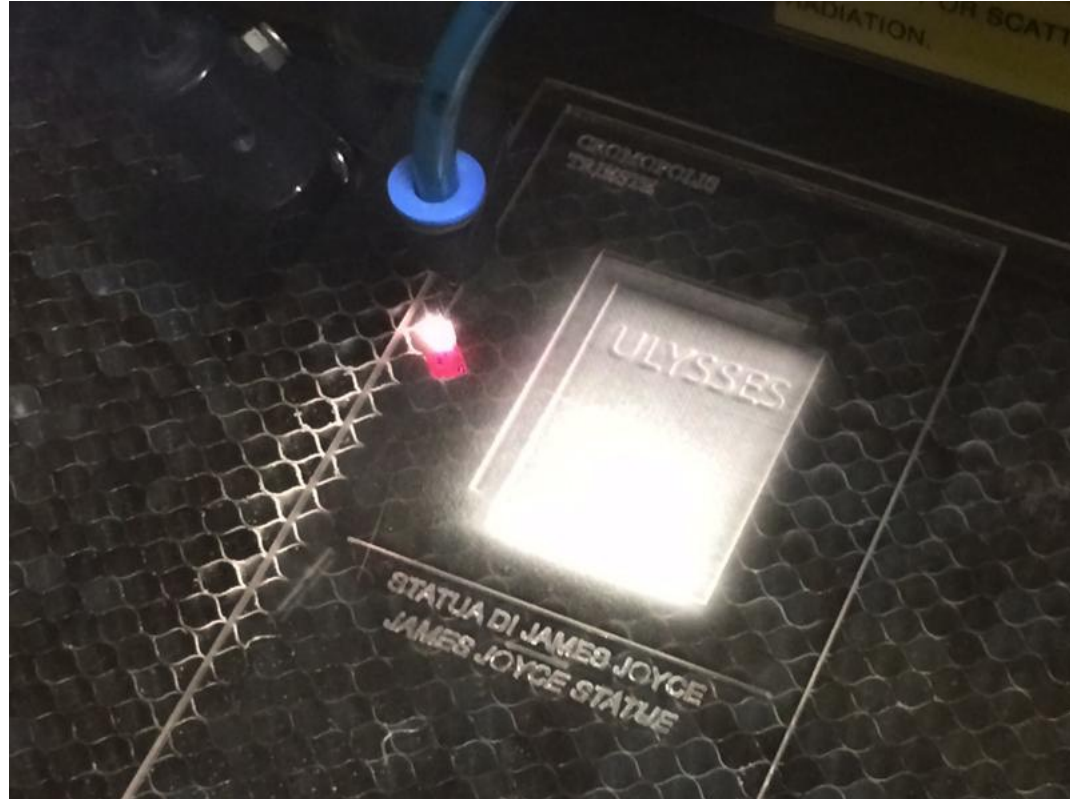

First results

Laser cut

3D print

Laser cutting

Final work

Tests on wood

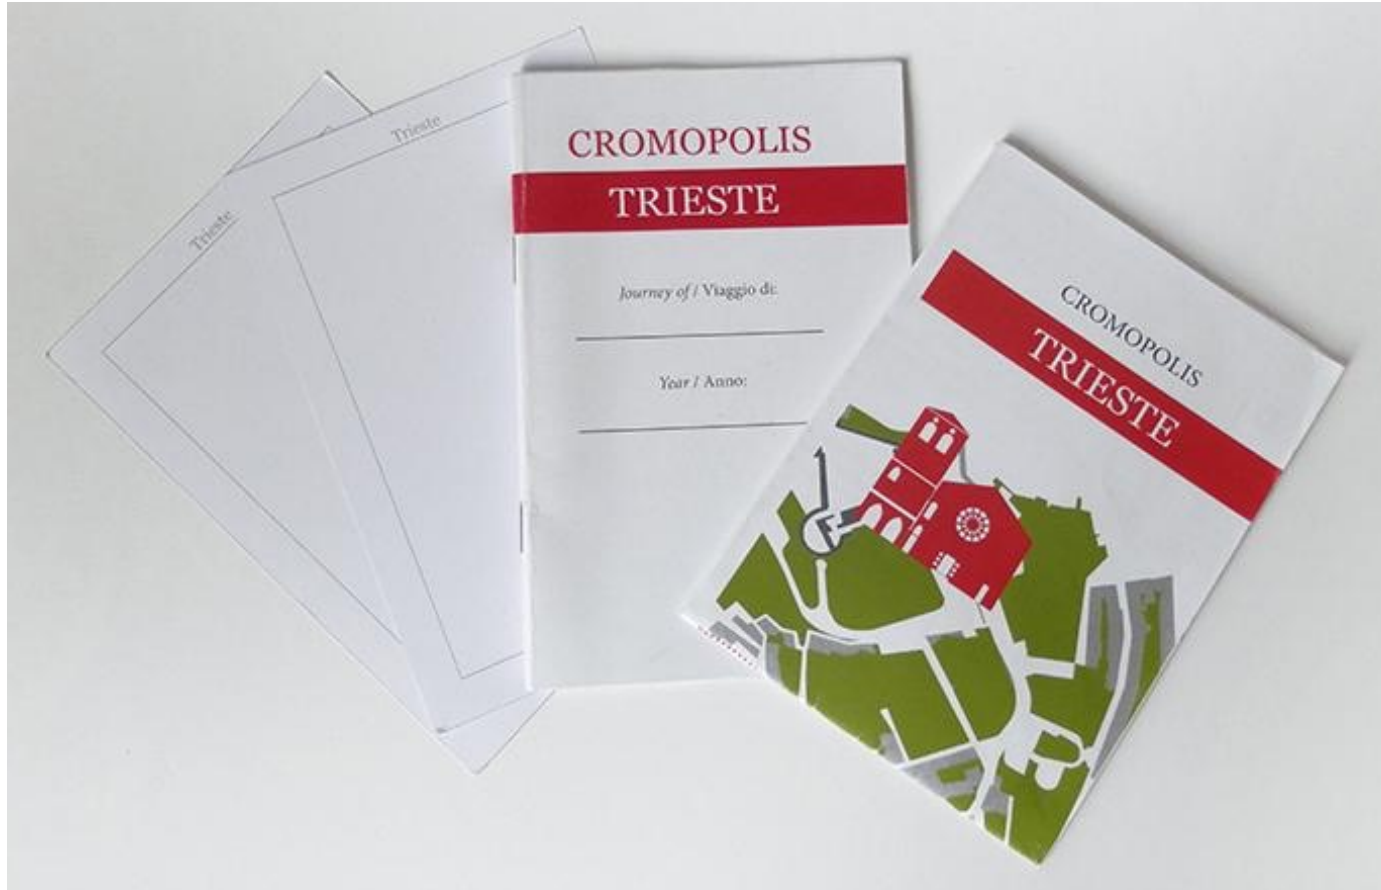

City map with points of interest

The project can be created in every city of the world

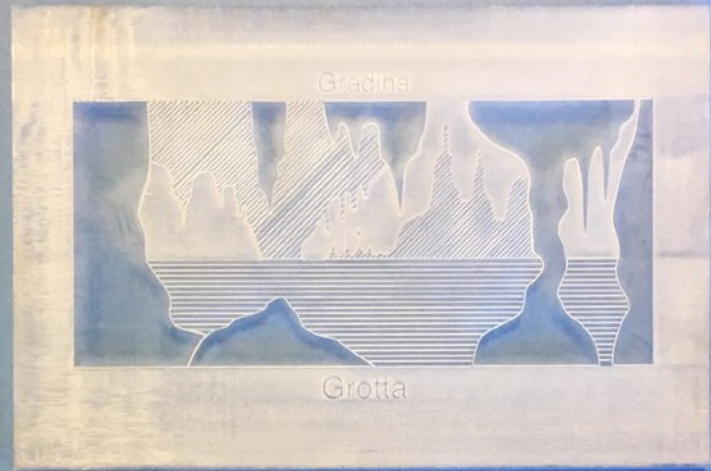

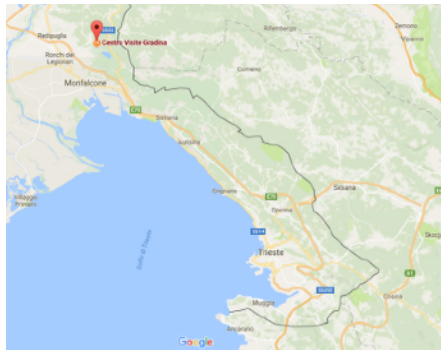

Postcards and notebook

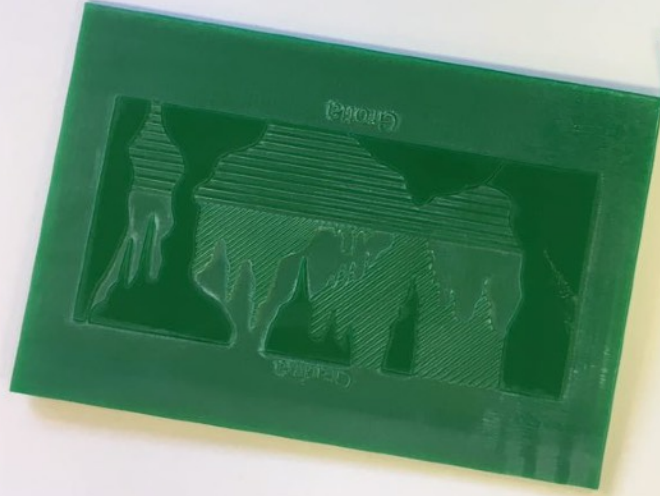

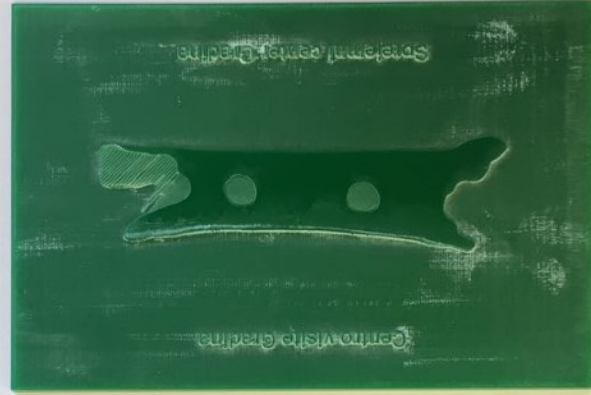

Gradina edition

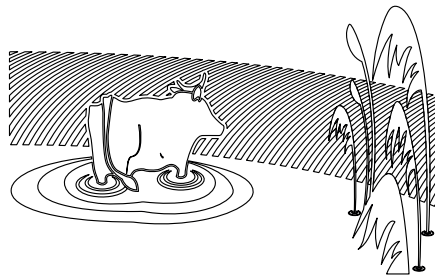

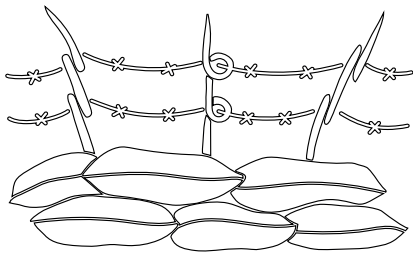

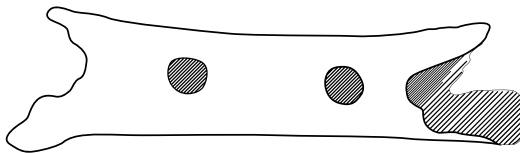

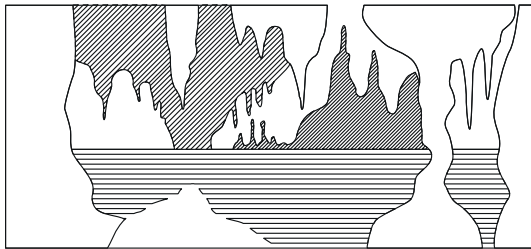

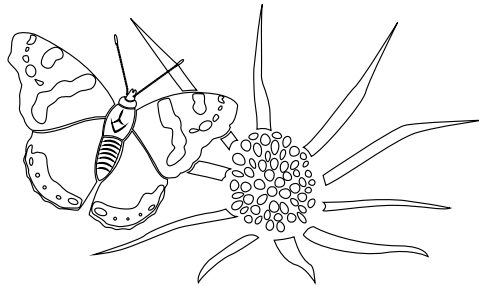

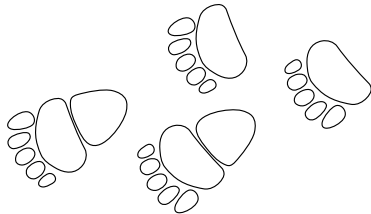

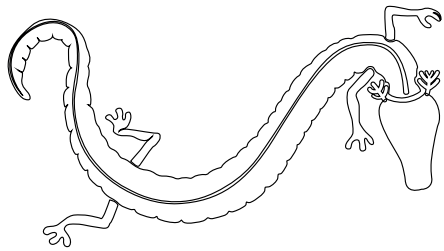

Protected natural reserve

- Educational purposes
- Learning through game

Icons

Potential developments

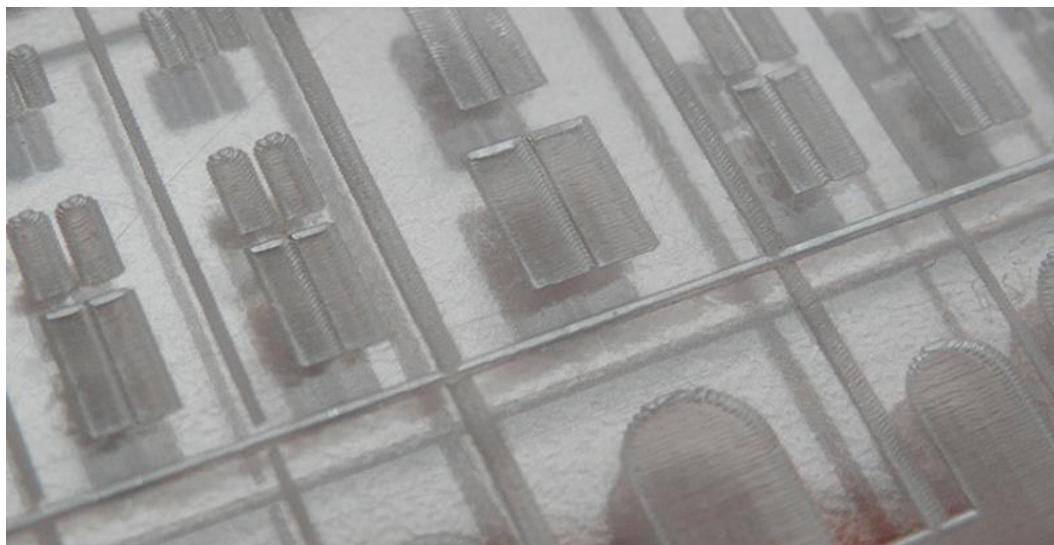

Product for everyone

Braille alphabet

ABCDEFGHIJKLMNOPQRSTUVWXYZ

Inclusive

- Same object for everyone

Thank you

Cromopolis

By Sara Sossi

ssossi.sara@gmail.com