WikiDonne – Chi siamo

Benvenute/i nel progetto WikiDonne su Wikipedia !

Lo sapevate che solo 15,24% di biografie su Wikipedia in italiano sono bio di donne? Siamo un gruppo di utenti che hanno lo scopo di aumentare la diversità e migliorare la copertura di argomenti che riguardano le donne in Wikipedia, stilando liste di voci (da creare ex novo, da migliorare e da tradurre) e organizzando eventi. Gli uomini sono i benvenuti sempre, la nostra intenzione non è quella di trasformare Wikipedia in Donnepedia ma sensibilizzare tutti sulla realtà del gender gap nei contenuti e partecipazione.

Benvenute/i nel progetto WikiDonne su Wikipedia!

Il progetto ha come obiettivo l'inserimento in Wikipedia ed altri progetti wiki, di biografie di donne enciclopediche mancanti e argomenti correlati (opere delle donne, storia delle donne, movimenti femministi, sport femminili, pregiudizi di genere, violenza sulle donne etc).

Creato il 4 agosto 2016 da Camelia per la partecipazione all'editathon HerStory del 12 agosto, viene gestito dal WikiDonne (User Group con sede a Roma riconosciuto ufficialmente dalla WMF formato da Camelia, Beatrice e Susanna e altri utenti che svolgono attività volte a ridurre il gender gap nel mondo wiki):

- facendo un lavoro di alfabetizzazione wiki
- partecipando alla scrittura delle voci, raggruppando le biografie femminili, creando liste, categorie, barre di navigazione, template associati e altro.
- realizzando collaborazioni con altri movimenti wiki di condivisione della conoscenza libera (WikiWomen, WikiMujeres, Les sans pagEs, Whose's Knowledge?), in quanto partecipante al progetto globale Women in Red
- realizzando un lavoro cross-wiki tramite la copertura degli stessi argomenti negli altri progetti wiki: WikiBooks, WikiQuote, OSM
- organizzando eventi (editathon on line e on site, corsi, incontri)
- stabilendo affiliazioni a progetti organizzati da altri usergroups, gruppi regionali o capitoli (Iberoccop, CEE Spring, Wiki Loves Women, Art + Feminism, AfroCrowd, Wikimedia Ghana User Group, Wikimedians of Cameroon User Group, Wikimedia User Group Nigeria, WMSE, WMIT, WMCH, WMAR, WMDE, WMFR).

Il nuovo logo WikiDonne (2018) è stato creato dalla designer Maria Beatrice Wierusz Kowalska, CC BY SA 4.0

Wikipedia:WikiProject Women in Red

WikiProject Women in Red (talk) (photos)

Welcome to Women in Red (WiR), a WikiProject whose objective is to turn "redlinks" into blue ones. That's why we are called "Women in Red". We recognized a need for this work as in October 2014 only 15.53% of the English Wikipedia's biographies were about women. Founded in July 2015, WiR strives to improve the figure, which has reached 18.09% as of 4 November 2019. But that means, according to WHGI, only 301,743 of our 1,668,079 biographies are about women. Not impressed? "Content gender gap" is a form of systemic bias, and WiR addresses it in a positive way through shared values.

We take an inclusive view towards subject matter, editors, and language communities:

- Subject matter: If the subject of the article self-identifies as a woman—binary and/or non-binary and/or other—that person is included within the scope of Women in Red. Click on our Redlinks index to see our lists of missing articles by focus area, occupation and nationality. Like everything else on Wikipedia, this is incomplete, so feel free to add others which are pertinent to our scope (women's biographies, women's works, women's issues).
- Editors: We do not focus on the gender of the editor. Anyone/everyone is welcome to be a member, participant, enthusiast of Women in Red. If you participate in WiR, you can join up officially using the box in the top right-hand corner of this page. You are also welcome to add our userbox template `{{User WikiProject Women in Red}}` to your user page, to produce:

  This user makes women blue.

- Language communities: While Women in Red began on English Wikipedia, it is an international commitment with dozens of other language communities. Please add a link to your language's coordination page here.

- The second round of our three-month stub contest started on 1 November. Each month (October, November, December) recognition is given to the winners of each of the two sections, one for new stubs, the other for enhancing existing stubs. The contest is open to all providing they have registered as members of Women in Red. The winners in October were Dawnleelynn with 50 new stubs and SWP13 with 8 destubbed articles.--Ipigott (talk) 08:59, 1 November 2019 (UTC)
- On November 2 and November 16, edithons on women journalists will be held in New York City under Take The Lead. Details, including the names of 83 women journalists yet to be included on Wikipedia, are given here.--Ipigott (talk) 13:11, 28 October 2019 (UTC)

Wikidata:WikiProject Women

WikiProject Women is an effort to get every item about a woman described properly on Wikidata

- with the statements
  - istanza di (P31)=umano (Q5)
  - sesso o genere (P21)=femmina (Q6581072)
  - occupazione (P106)= eg writer, painter, sculptor, judge, politician, scientist, plus any more specific occupations
  - data di nascita (P569)
  - luogo di nascita (P19)
  - at least one external identifier
- label/descriptions in 3 languages.

For a start, take a look at Gender Bias in Wikipedia and Britannica (Q27797614) and see also Wikidata:WikiProject Women/Number of women per occupation. You can now browse paintings of women by decade here: Wikidata:WikiProject Women/Portraits of women.

Lots of women were notable for just living to the ripe old age of 100. Their occupazione (P106), if they don't have one assigned, should be set to centenario (Q2944360). Please take a look at some of these women with at least 2 sitelinks who have no data di morte (P570) but were born before 1920:

- Wikidata:WikiProject Women/Centenarians

Please help cleanup items about women, but if you land on a page about another gender human in the course of your cleanup work, why not try to leave that item a bit tidier than you found it? Thanks!

Add P800 (notable works) to Women items [modifica]

To help increase overall quality of items about women, please add opere rilevanti (P800) to female items. For women sporters an olympic medal or other award. For women writers this could be a published work or important letter. For women inventors a patent. For scientists a discovery or other noted contribution. For actors a movie, play or TV show. For women artists this could be a work of art in a notable museum.

Help clean up paintings by or portraying women [modifica]

- Add a painting to Wikidata:WikiProject Women/Self-portraits of women
- Add a painting to Wikidata:WikiProject Women/Portraits of women
- Consider adding fashion items to raffigura (P180) on paintings of women, or add other attributes or activities depicted

See also Wikidata:WikiProject Women/ArtAndFeminism 2019 and Denelezh project

Help clean up items on women writers [modifica]

The effort to clean up items on women writers includes trying to fill in all of the properties listed above, but also to reduce intersection. To track women writers and make them more visible to other projects, please make sure they include occupazione (P106) = scrittore (Q36180):

- Wikidata:WikiProject Women/Intersected women writers - P106 lacks scrittore (Q36180) and limited to show 50 items

Help work on these lists of women from Wikipedia projects! [modifica]

Category:Gender bias on Wikipedia

From Wikimedia Commons, the free media repository

The Gender bias on Wikipedia refers to the mismatch in the number of Wiki(p/m)edia contributors editing with a political or ideological bias regarding gender issues. It is a part of a larger diversity problem that the WMF attempts to address through sponsoring outreach efforts geographically as well as demographically, apparently under the assumption that recruiting editors with opposite bias will result in more neutral coverage (while actual Wikipedia policy would require editors to attempt bias-free contributions).

PROGRAMS & EVENTS DASHBOARD
Manage and track Wikimedia programs from one place with ease.
The Programs & Events Dashboard is a tool which assists the management of wiki programs and events.
Suppose that there is a wiki program, for example a wiki editing drive to improve a certain sort of content, or a wiki event, for example a wiki editing meetup at a local community center. In either of those cases, the dashboard provides the following:
A registration button for participants to note that they are joining the program
Tracking functions for organizers to measure and report the outcome of a program
The Dashboard is also the home of Wikimedia Foundation training modules, such as those on dealing with online harassment and keeping events safe. Learn more about these modules.
