Scientific experience for a woman Physicist from Gaza, Palestine

Abstract: A scientific experience of a female physicist who lives in Gaza, Palestine, will be presented to you. This part of the world is subjected to unstable political circumstances, which affects its economy and the living style of the people. Lack of electricity and unavailability of drinking water, raises the height of the challenge barrier that a normal scientist has to overcome. In addition, a brief introduction about different research topics that she tackled under the above-mentioned circumstances will be presented.
