

Verstraete

"Dissipative processes for quantum information processing"

I will discuss how dissipative quantum systems can be used for quantum computation and how they provides a new framework for constructing quantum algorithms.