Joint ICTP-IAEA School on Synchrotron Applications in Cultural Heritage and Environmental Sciences and Multidisciplinary Aspects of Imaging Techniques | (smr 2272)

Contribution ID : 18 Type : not specified

Three-dimensional imaging and quantitative characterization of fossil remains. New perspectives in structural, functional and evolutionary morphology

Thursday, 24 November 2011 09:00 (1:00)

Content

Summary

Primary author(s): ROBERTO MACCHIARELLI (Université de Poitiers)

Presenter(s): ROBERTO MACCHIARELLI (Université de Poitiers)

Session Classification: Three-dimensional imaging and quantitative characterization of fossil remains. New perspectives in structural, functional and evolutionary morphology