

A highly idiosyncratic and vastly incomplete tour of the mathematical work of Fernando Rodriguez Villegas

Farshid HAJIR (University of Massachusetts Amherst, USA)

Abstract: In this talk, which is partially about mathematics and partially about the process of doing mathematics, especially with collaborators, I will present certain gems from the part of Fernando's work with which I am most familiar, namely from his Princeton years.