GD Track: Geospatial data, best practices for collection and management - Kastler Lecture Hall (AGH) (09:00-17:00)

This week will focus on hands-on activities, with short lectures introducing each practical exercise. These activities will provide skills on creating and documenting plans for energy access planning and data governance, which can be applied in your respective countries after the workshop. The final deliverable will be a presentation and report outlining your findings. The in-person sessions will take place from the 12th to the 23rd of August 2024.
