Nonlinear extrinsic flows and ancient solutions

Panagiota Daskalopoulos

(Department of Mathematics, Columbia University)

Abstract: The course will present various recent results on the properties of ancient solutions of the classical mean curvature flow, and on the two important examples of extrinsic fully nonlinear flows, namely the inverse mean curvature flow and Gauss curvature flow.