Maker Expo of Open Technologies and Inclusive Development

October, 27-28 2018

CENTRO CULTURAL MIGUEL ANGEL ASTURIAS, GUATEMALA

EXPO

* First edition was held at University of Cartagena, Colombia in 2017

Maker Expo brings together design, engineering, creativity and enthusiasm to showcase projects at the intersection of science, art and technology.

DESCRIPTION

Maker Expo is a public event originated by the Science Dissemination Unit of the Abdus Salam International Centre for Theoretical Physics, with the aim to bring together science, technology and the community of resourceful and creative people, for the benefit of all.

It focuses on open source, open hardware, citizen science, do-it-yourself solutions and innovative approaches to local problems empowered by collaboration through the Internet.

GOALS

Besides bringing science and technology closer to the public, Maker Expo aims to be a platform where designers, engineers, inventors, or "makers", meet in a single place to exchange ideas and resources, make contacts, meet pro active people to form working groups and collaborations.
