

Speaker: Daniel FREED (University of Texas, Austin, USA)

Title: Generalized cohomology in field theory

I will make general remarks about why generalized cohomology enters field theory in different ways. I will illustrate each with examples, including applications to string theory and condensed matter physics